G. & N. W. FAST MAIL KILLS A YOUNG MAN TODAY

TAKEN TO HOSPITAL.

Chas. Martin, who suffered the loss of his right leg below the knee some time ago in Chicago, where he fell under a street car, was removed from Huguet's hotel to the Dixon hospital this afternoon. He was in the Tibitha hospital in that city for ninety-one days, and came here yesterday and went to the Huguet hotel until he could make his whereabouts known to his nephew, Edward Courtwright, of this city, whom he came here to see. On his way here he enjoyed himself too freely with the result that he is now in a bad condition with the old wound opened again.

He is a married man with two sons, one of which, Leonard, lives in Chicago. Several years ago he worked for the Fletcher Manufacturing company and he became well acquainted in this city.

BACHELORS' PARTY ELABORATE AFFAIR

ONE HUNDRED COUPLES ENJOYED MUSIC AND DANCING. BACHELORS' GUESTS.

HALL BEAUTIFULLY DECORATED

Music Was Fine and Every Attention Given to the Comfort of Their Many Guests.

The "Bachelors'" dancing party given in Rosbrook hall last evening was an elaborate affair. Dixon's society people turned out to the extent of 100 couples. Prominent society people from Chicago, Sterling, Polo, Morrison and Fulton were present. The "Bachelors" were determined to make the affair the leading event of the social season and their efforts were crowned with success. Up to 9 o'clock carriages brought to the door of the hall, beautifully dressed women and gentlemen in evening costume.

From 9 o'clock until after midnight the guests waltzed to the inspiring and most excellent music of Gibbler's orchestra, Freeport's popular and noted musical organization.

Splendid Concert.
Early in the evening the guests enjoyed a splendid concert, consisting of a dozen or more classic selections. All pronounced the concert supremely delightful.

Beautiful Decoration.
Never was Dixon's leading dance parlor more beautifully and artistically decorated. Strings of dazzling electric lights extending from the four corners of the hall to a point in the center, and each light covered with a Japanese lantern, added beauty and color to the brilliant scene. Artificial flowers and vines, mingling with various colored ribbons, presented a real picture of art which was indeed beautiful to look upon. The orchestra platform was a handsome piece of art. The players were partially hid from view by a profusion of ferns and palms. The "dining" and reception rooms were tastefully furnished and decorated. The decorating was done by Mr. Harry Waterman, Dixon's expert decorating artist.

During the evening light refreshments were served. Nothing was overlooked by the "Bachelors" in their desire to make their guests comfortable, and to make the evening one of pleasure and enjoyment. It will be an event long to be remembered by those present.

Out of Town Guests

The following guests from out of town were present:

Chicago, Mrs. W. C. Andrus, and daughter, Miss Natalie, and Mr. Gordon Utley.
Polo, Mr. and Mrs. Pearl Herrick, Mr. A. Joiner, Jr., and Miss Pettibone, Mr. and Mrs. John Douglas.
Sterling, Mr. John Stager, Miss Flo Stager and Dr. Beard and wife.

G. O. APPLE STEPPED IN FRONT OF TRAIN, STERLING YARDS —INSTANTLY KILLED

BRAKEMAN ON PEORIA FREIGHT

Was His First Run—Body Taken to His Home in Elgin Some Time This Evening.

George O. Apple of Elgin was killed early this morning in the yards of the North-Western railway at Sterling by being struck by the fast mail train, west bound.

Apple was a brakeman on the Peoria freight and his train was standing in the yards on a track adjoining the main line when the young man unconsciously stepped on the main track in front of the fast mail. The engine of the swiftly moving train struck him and knocked him over against his own train, killing him instantly.

This was Apple's first run on the Peoria freight and he was formerly breaking on the Wisconsin division of the North-Western. He was 27 years of age and comes of a good family in Elgin. An inquest is being held this afternoon and the body will be shipped to Elgin tonight. The burial will take place Saturday.

FALLS FROM RUNWAY.

Arthur, or as he is familiarly known, "Pete" Overholser who has been helping put up ice at the Gus. Schweinsburg ice house yesterday and today, in some manner this forenoon while following a cake of ice up the runway, slipped and fell twenty feet to the ground, alighting on his left side. His head was slightly bruised and his left wrist was broken. He was taken to the office of a physician who in turn sent him to the hospital where he could be given an anaesthetic. Owing to the location of the fracture his wrist may always be stiff.

FLETCHER ADDITION FINISHED.

The addition which has been built onto the Fletcher Manufacturing establishment is now almost ready for use and the regular work in the new department will probably be commenced next week. This addition, contains a drying room and a large room in which the machinery and apparatus necessary for the building of boats as large as can be used on the river near Dixon, will be installed. The boat building plant and the lumber drying room, fill two long felt wants of the company, and will add a great deal to the variety of construction possible.

HOTEL RENOVATED.

Mine Host Chas. Huguet has just finished having his hotel thoroughly renovated with the result that any room in the house is good enough for a prince. Large Brussels rugs have been placed in each room and the hotel papered, painted, and cleaned, throughout.

Mr. Huguet has been in the hotel business for a good many years and certainly knows how to treat his guests so that they come again. His business is increasing every year and many are the offers and chances he has to sell, but he likes Dixon and is here to stay.

THE STEEL CUT COFFEE.

Is just pure Mocha & Java prepared in a new way. The Coffee berry is cut by knives of almost razor sharpness into small uniform particles and is not crushed as by the old method of grinding, the oil cells remain unbroken. The essential oil (food product) cannot evaporate and is preserved indefinitely. This is one reason why a pound of Barrington Hall will make 15 to 20 cups more of full-strength coffee than will any coffee ground the old way—why it excels all other Coffee in flavor and why it will keep perfectly till used.

But the main thing about Barrington Hall Coffee is that it can be used without ill effect by those who find ordinary coffee injures them. Because the tannin-bearing chaff and dust, the injurious properties of coffee are removed by the "Steel Cut" process.

A delicious Coffee—not a tasteless substitute. No special Coffee Percolator necessary. Packed in 1, 1 and 2-lb. sealed cans.

A COMEDY OF ACCIDENTS

By FRANK H. SWEET

Copyright, 1905, by Ruby Douglas

When the breeze is just strong enough to fill a sail without flattening and the sun discreet enough to brim the summer girl's cup of enjoyment to the verge of color and tan there is no place superior to the shore waters of Nantucket. If Blanche Wilmet and Tom Howard did not think so in stereotyped form as they tacked out from the hotel dock it was all in the vivacity of their eyes and voices and motions.

"Now, you trim the sail, while I do the rudder," cried Blanche, "and which is port and starboard, so I can call out, and what is down bridge? Susie Mills is forever telling me about their 'down bridges' when they go sailing, and she says it's such fun. And bailing out—can't we bail out, Mr. Howard? We only stay a month at Nantucket, and I want to learn it all so I can talk too."

"Mr. Howard?" scornfully. "I'm Tom and you're Blanche. Weren't we properly introduced at the breakfast table, not an hour ago, and didn't that Susie Mills of yours ever mention that Nantucket has no frills? No one can like 'down bridges' and preserve dignity."

"No," doubtfully. "Susie didn't speak of that—Tom, but what is it, and the rest?"

"Oh, just ducking your head to keep from being knocked overboard by the boom when it swings around. It's anything but fun, I can tell you, Blanche. Some boatmen are forever tacking when they're in narrow channels and that keeps the boom swinging like a pendulum. And bailing—that's when a boat leaks. You can thank your stars not to have any of that."

"Fshaw! You're no true sailor," disgustedly. "I'd just love for the boat to leak. Couldn't we snag something or—foul a rock or strain a seam so she would spring a leak? It would be so salty, you know. But you didn't explain port."

"Oh, that—that's the side one turns out when driving. I think, or maybe it's the other side. I'm not quite sure just now. But anyway you won't need it. They say that and starboard in battles, you know, when they're going on board with cutlasses. But look out!" sharply. "You will spring a leak sure if you run into rocks that way."

"Well, how could I help it," Blanche retorted, "with you chattering? I an our just as well and saved this wetting—if I'd thought. Luff a little, Blanche."

"Let's see"—sweetly—"that has to be done with the rudder, doesn't it, Tom?" "Oh, well, maybe it does"—irritably—"but you'd be owl if you had streams of water coursing down your back and flooding your shoes. And we're right in front of the hotel. Likely 499 out of the 500 guests are looking at us and making remarks." He was silent for some moments and then added, "And I bragged a whole lot to some of the fellows about my—my saltiness."

"Poor Tom," laughed Blanche. "But I'm in the same boat. My talk was horribly salty this morning. I'm afraid we're in for general congratulations when we get back."

Tom groaned, kicked the water from his shoes, then laughed.

"Only a month, did you say, Blanche?" he asked.

"That's all, and papa made a whole lot of trouble about that. He doesn't like the seashore a bit and only gave in when I promised to be a good girl and consider his wishes in the fall. You see, I'm escaping, and I wanted to get just as far away as possible in hope of making it permanent."

"Queer," quoth Tom; "I'm escaping too. Only mine's to be all summer. And I'm studying how to make the thing permanent."

Blanche looked interested.

"What's your trouble," she asked—"a girl?"

"Yes. Money in two families. Got to be united. All cut and dried without consulting me."

"Why don't you jump overboard, as you did just now?"

"That's what I'm thinking of. But it means disinherence, and I've never earned a cent in my life. It's something that calls for mental struggle through silent watches of the night."

"Is the girl nice looking?"

"Never saw her. But how is it with you?"

"Just the same. Money, money, money, and I never saw the man either."

Tom leaned forward, his eyes shining.

"Look here, Blanche," he cried, "let's elope. That'll settle the whole thing for both of us."

"Why, Tom Howard?" in dismay.

"We haven't known each other two hours yet."

"What of it?" boldly. "We both like the water, don't we? And we've got to do something."

"But get married, after two hours, and not know a thing about each other?"

"Well, tomorrow I'll make twenty-four hours more, and a month will be thirty whole days. And we'll be out every day boating and talking. Isn't that enough?"

Blanche drew a long breath.

"I don't know," she answered doubtfully. "We'll see. But I wish the other Howard—mine, you know—had a little more of your brass. I wouldn't so much mind him then. But T. de Folkstone Howard! Pah! It makes me think of a dancing master."

Tom turned red and then purple, but the last was with laughter, held back.

"So the other fellow is a Howard too," he choked, "and T. de Folkstone? What a cad! But don't you suppose that might be the adolescence of college days, Blanche, to be outgrown? Why, I once heard of a girl who bided at Wellesley as B. Gladys Clorinda Wilmet. Don't you think that a name to run away from?"

"You—wretch! Are you Thomas de Folkstone Howard?"

"Guilty, with no extenuating circumstances."

Blanche stared, bit her lip, then sank weakly upon a thwart.

"Tom," she said faintly, "let's go in now, before anything more happens. I've had all I can stand today. Tomorrow we will start again."

COUNTY IS TO LOSE

No Prosecution at Peoria of Those Who Are Liable for Dougherty's Shortage.

WOULD MEAN TOO MUCH RUIN

Bryan and That "Tainted" Money—Republican State Convention Date—Items.

Peoria, Ill., Feb. 15.—The school inspectors of Peoria have adopted a resolution, the clauses of which release from liability for the shortage caused by the forgery and embezzlement of N. C. Dougherty all the treasurers and the bondsmen for the past eighteen years, the Peoria National bank, and all other banks which have handled school funds in eighteen years since Dougherty became secretary of the school board as well as superintendent, and call for the immediate prosecution of means necessary to collect from the estate of Dougherty in so far as that estate goes. The resolution carries a provision which conditions the final effect of its clauses upon the satisfactory provision by Judge Irwin, trustee of the Dougherty estate, for the paying over to the board the property as fast as corresponding shortage is proven.

Sympathy Did the Business.

The resolution was passed after the most stormy session in the history of the board by a vote of 8 to 4. Three members were absent, and O. J. Bailey, one of the bondsmen, was excused from voting. The board had previously been presented with a legal opinion by Judge David McCulloch which held banks, treasurers and bondsmen liable, and the validity of this opinion is acknowledged in the resolution. The supporters of the resolution, led by John S. Stevens, based their argument on sympathy for the widows and orphans who would suffer from the prosecution of the bank, and for the bondsmen who would be ruined by the pressing of the suits.

Probable Shortage Is $618,000.

The final report of the Everett Audit company shows a total shortage of $618,000. The Dougherty estate, which is not largely composed of securities of questionable value, is estimated to be worth from $150,000 to $300,000, and by the action of the board the power of recovery is limited to this fund, which cannot reimburse to a greater extent than 40 per cent.

May Be Suits, Anyhow.

There is said to be a possibility that State Superintendent of Instruction Baylis will instruct County Superintendent Stone to bring suit independent of the board for collection, and Judge McCulloch, the board's attorney, has held that no act of the board can release anybody from liability. In its action the board was supported by a favorable resolution from the Peoria Board of Trade, and by a petition of 300 business men. The Trades Assembly, the only other public body taking action, opposed the resolution.

BRYAN AND ILLINOIS COLLEGE

Trustees Are Sorry He Feels as He Does, but Will Not Change Their Plans.

Jacksonville, Ill., Feb. 15.—The resignation of William J. Bryan from the board of trustees of Illinois college because he would not countenance the acceptance of what he considered "tainted" money, has caused general regret, but the remaining trustees and the officials of the college do not propose to change their plans because of it. They take the stand that the college is badly in need of money and therefore must be willing to accept aid from those who possess wealth and are willing to give of it.

President C. H. Rammelkamp said that Judge C. A. Barnes, Judge Thompson, M. T. Dundap, who also resigned, and Bryan had been valuable members on the board of trustees, and when the matter of finances at the college had become so pressing that something had to be done the question of appealing to those who were assisting colleges was brought before the board. Bryan vehemently opposed that method of raising funds, and his close friends, Dundap, Thompson and Barnes, stood with him.

Republican State Convention.

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 15.—The Republican state central committee met here and decided to hold the state convention at 10 a. m., May 4, in the state arsenal here. The ratio of representation is fixed at one delegate for every 400 votes of majority fraction thereof cast for Roosevelt in 1904. A resolution was adopted suggesting to county committees that they do not endorse candidates for any office.

Death of Mary E. Holmes.

Rockford, Ill., Feb. 15.—Mary E. Holmes, founder of the Mary E. Holmes seminary at West Point, Miss., an industrial school for colored girls, and prominent as a scientist, is dead. She was a fellow of the Geological Society of America, members of the Rockford college faculty for eight years, and had been Freedmen's secretary for the northwest for ten years.

New Couple in Charge of the Home.

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 15.—The trustees of the Odd Fellows' Old Folks' Home at Mattoon have elected Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Wyman, of Beardstown, superintendent and matron, respectively, of that institution, succeeding N. W. and Mrs. Richards, who resigned.

CUBANS SHOW GRATITUDE

They Warmly Welcome Their Military Visitors at El Caney Memorial Dedication.

Santiago, Cuba, Feb. 15.—Cuban gratitude, marked the celebration of the unveiling of the monument at El Caney in honor of the United States soldiers who lost their lives during the siege of Santiago. The United States officers enthusiastically praised Governor Yerro, Mayor Bacardi and the Cuban military officers and citizens for their hearty reception. Many thousands of people crowded the El Caney road, but in spite of this there was no serious blockade, the police management being perfect and the road equal to a city boulevard.

SURRENDER TREE, SAN JUAN HILL.

At the battlefield the Fifth artillery and the Cuban artillery bands alternated in playing military and other airs. Here speeches were made by General B. M. Young, Rear Admiral Higinson, General Andraza, Cuban, and others. After the monument was unveiled official calls were exchanged, and at night the Cuban officials dined their guests and good fellowship prevailed.

Result of a Railway Wreck Which Was Caused by a Snow Storm—Six Passengers Hurt.

Janesville, Wis., Feb. 15.—Three trainmen dead, one dying, three injured, six passengers hurt, were the casualties due to a head-on collision between a special freight and a De Kalb passenger train on the Chicago and Northwestern railroad, two miles south of Janesville. Conductor R. A. Peck, of the freight train, is dying. Conductor Geo. Devane, of Janesville, was cut about the head and shoulders. Engineer Brisco, of Paraboo, suffered a foot crushed. Mrs. Grosby, of Sycamore, and five other passengers were injured, but not severely. The wreck was due, it is said, to a snow storm.

DOLAN GIVEN THE LIE

Mitchell Does It in Writing—Says Alleged Lie Was "Malicious and Premeditated."

STANDS BY HIS FIRST DICTUM

District Convention Has Full Power to Bounce Officials.

Injunction Case Is Indefinitely Postponed—Important Rumor at Pittsburgh as to Mitchell's Intentions.

Pittsburg, Feb. 15.—It is stated here that John Mitchell, president of the United Mine Workers, has called a special session of the national executive board at Indianapolis early in March. The board will decide whether to call another convention of the miners or to issue this ultimatum: "An advance in wages or strike."

Pittsburg, Feb. 15.—The adjourned session of the Pittsburgh district miners' convention, reassembled with President Patrick Dolan presiding, National Vice President Lewis, who had not. Immediately after the opening of the convention Lewis read a letter from just arrived from New York, was President Mitchell to the delegates, in which he reiterates his decision that the district convention has the power to remove from office any official, if deemed advisable by a majority of the delegates. It also, he decides, has power to employ counsel to defend delegates in injunction cases.

Delegates Are the Supreme Power.

In summarizing his opinion Mitchell says: "The meeting now being held in Pittsburgh is the regular annual convention of the miners of that field, the delegates there represent and speak for the membership; they are the supreme power. They may amend their laws, remove their officers, or take any other action that is not in conflict with the constitution of the international organization or in violation of the laws of the country. Entertaining these views as to the power of the district convention, I have no other choice than to decide in accordance therewith." Dolan had insisted that as he had been elected president by a referendum vote a similar vote was required to unseat him.

Replies to Dolan's Statement.

President Mitchell then takes up the allegations of District President Dolan, and says: "It is not my intention at this time to make reply to the statement issued—although not written—by Mr. Dolan, which appeared in the various papers, more than to say that his allegation that I said to him during the Pittsburgh convention of the American Federation of Labor that I should be well satisfied with a renewal of the present agreement, is a deliberate malicious and premeditated falsehood. No statement was made by me to him at Pittsburgh or anywhere else. If I had ever entertained a sentiment in favor of the renewal of the present agreement I should have communicated that fact to my colleagues in the international office or to the members of the international executive board. I certainly should not have gone to Pittsburgh and divulged my feelings to one who has for years been unfriendly to my administration."

Injunction Hearing Is Off Indefinitely.

The hearing on the temporary injunction obtained by President Dolan against the delegates attending the convention was postponed indefinitely, following a conference between counsel for the litigants. It was agreed before the court that either side may go into court any time in the future and request a hearing.

WOULD SUE FOR THE MONEY

Inquirers Hold the Officers of the New York Life Responsible for Campaign Funds.

New York, Feb. 15.—Recommendations that legal proceedings be instituted to recover campaign contributions made by the New York Life Insurance company have been submitted to the trustees of that company by the special investigating committee headed by Thomas P. Fowler. It is recommended that the money be recovered from such officers and trustees as counsel shall decide are liable therefor. The campaign contributions referred to were made for Republican campaign purposes and aggregated $148,702, divided as follows: Fifty thousands dollars in 1896, $50,000 in 1900 and $48,702 in 1904.

The report says: "These contributions were directed by President McCall in the belief that they were necessary in the interest of and for the protection of the policyholders, and not for any personal benefit or advantage," but that the committee is informed that such use was illegal.

Cummins Has Troubles of His Own.

Mothers! Retain Your Youthful Figures.

To be beautiful is to be loved by all. If there lives the woman who is indifferent to this she is yet to be heard of. Yet from time immemorial society has recognized what they thought to be a detriment in the way of such a realization. The bearing of children has meant to them the marring of physical beauty of figure, without which beauty of face would be of little account. Nothing could be more remote from truth than this; childhood is purely a natural phenomenon, accompanied by pain, to be sure, but if properly managed no more harmful in its effects upon the human form divine than any other natural function.

MOTHER'S FRIEND

Is essential in the proper management of every case of labor; it relaxes and softens the abdominal muscles, thereby enabling them to sustain the stretching that they must undergo, and from this very fact it facilitates their return to normal proportions after childbirth, and it is obvious that pain must be greatly lessened from this very reason.

It is a liniment, it is harmless, it is potent, it is priceless in its results. It is Mother's Friend. $1.00 per bottle at drug stores. Our book of priceless value sent free to all women.

At a dinner in honor of Lyman J. Gage a few nights ago he was introduced as "the most distinguished Illinoisan living." It won't be well for the man who introduced him if he has any future favors to ask of Speaker Cannon.

"Sleeves are getting shorter and shorter" says a fashion magazine, but there is no corresponding decrease in the dressmakers' bills.

Fifty students of the graduating class at the Naval academy failed in their final examinations. Evidently there has been too much time devoted to hazing and being tried for it to prevent of actual study.

It is probable that when the Hepburn railway rate bill gets back to the lower House of Congress that it and its author will scarcely have a bowing acquaintance.

WILLIAM J. BRYAN.

William Jennings Bryan, in a recent address to the Filipinos, praised the policy of the United States with respect to the archipelago. He declared that, while the United States had made mistakes in the administration of the islands, such mistakes were only natural. They were not to be charged, he said, to the Republican party. If the Democrats were in power, the same errors, or similar errors, would be made.

Such a statement as this from Mr. Bryan, twice the candidate of the Democratic party and the avowed exponent of the anti-expansion idea, is rather remarkable.

People who have known Mr. Bryan and who have been brought into contact with him, or who have followed his public utterances, have noticed a gradual widening of his views. It can hardly be doubted that the famous leader takes now a more liberal attitude with respect to public policies than he did in his first or his second presidential campaign.

Those who formerly doubted Mr. Bryan's sincerity have less reason now to do so. When he advocated free silver, many thought him a demagogue. When he opposed the so-called imperialistic policy many thought that he did so simply because he wanted an issue and was hard pressed to get it.

But probably Mr. Bryan really believed in free silver and really looked with disfavor on the policy of expansion.

Mr. Bryan is a more mature man than when he ran for the presidency. It would be natural that his ideas on public questions, as his ideas on private matters, would be more crystallized.

Mr. Bryan's motives in declaring that much good has been accomplished in the administration of the Philippines should not be impugned. If he is sincere—and we believe that his lips should not be impugned. If he has raised himself inestimably in public opinion by the frank expression of his convictions.—Springfield News.

READY FOR "BILLY."

During the time of the Sunday meetings no regular services will be held in the churches whose ministers are engaged in the Sunday campaign.

THE MASONIC SCHOOL

FREEPORT, NEXT WEEK

Notice Sent to Lodges All Over Northern Illinois of Instruction Meetings.

Freeport, Ill., Feb. 15.—Charles C. Wolf, worshipful master of Excelsior lodge No. 97, and Frank Rogers, worshipful master of Evergreen lodge No. 170, A. F. and A. M., have notified all of the school of instruction which will be held here on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of next week. The meetings will convene at 9 a. m. of each day of the schools and these sessions will be held daily. A large attendance is expected and the three degrees will be conferred on an actual candidate each evening. The last school of instruction was held in Freeport in 1898 and every session was largely attended. The fact that the Masonic lodges are now in their handsome new quarters will be the means of bringing many from outside lodges, and the capacity of the big lodge room will be taxed to accommodate the throngs. A great deal of benefit is derived by the officers and members by means of these schools as the standard work of the order is exemplified faultlessly and all are given an opportunity to familiarize with "blue lodge" masonry.

ACTOR JACK DONOVAN

IS A VERSATILE CHARACTER

Has Won Recognition as an Actor, a Prize Fighter and An Artist.

Jack Donovan, who takes the part of Henry Seaton, an attaché of the American legation, in the play, "The Shadow Behind the Throne," to be played at the Dixon opera house tonight, is versatile to a degree, having achieved success in other lines besides that of the actor. His work on the stage is excellent as was also that when conspicuous in the prize ring. During his ring career in England he won twenty out of twenty-three battles and gathered in $35,000, most of the dollars appearing to have attached nice little pairs of wings. One of his contests was with Dick Burg, the English light weight champion, the controversy ending with the fifteenth round in a draw.

Mr. Donovan is an artist of much ability. Three of his pictures, portraits, are owned by Belvidere people.

A brother, Dan Donovan, died in the ring at Maple Bay, near Syracuse, N. Y., at the end of the sixth round in a fight with Joe Dunfee. It has always been supposed that he had been drugged before entering the ring, and collapsed from the effects of the poison administered.

Mike Donovan, an uncle of Jack Donovan, has been the tutor of President Roosevelt in the scene of boxing.

AT THE ELKS' CLUB.

Every member of the Elks' lodge in Dixon has received the following invitation. And every member has accepted the invitation and will be present at the club rooms tonight. Say Brother Bill:—

Did you know that Bros. Eli Rosenthal and Sam Bacharach had authorized me to invite all Dixon Elks to a general round up of the "Antlered Herd," to be given by them at the club rooms on Thursday evening, February 15? On this date both of these long horned gentlemen will pass another mile stone in life and they wish to show Dixon Elks how they celebrate a birthday. Come early and stay late and enjoy the finest social session of the season.

CONSCIENCE MONEY FOR I. C.

M. J. Hanley, freight agent for the Illinois Central at Freeport, received a note dated Freeport. A dollar was enclosed and a letter signed A. G. stated that several years ago the writer rode on the system between Freeport and Forreston. His conscience, he said, was not right, so the $1.00 was enclosed to set it right and also square the account with the road.

EDWARDS TO VISIT OLNEY

County Superintendent I. F. Edwards will attend the eleventh annual meeting of the Illinois Farmers' Institute and the affiliated Illinois association of Domestic Science to be held at Olney, Ill., February 20, 21, 22. Schools in farm work will be a feature of the institute this year, including classes in corn judging and in domestic science. Subjects under discussion will be handled by experts.

ENGINE TORE THE WHEEL OFF RIG

DAVID SENNEFF AND MOTHER
ESCAPED DEATH CLOSELY
AT RAILWAY CROSSING

NEITHER THROWN FROM SEAT

Prompt Action On the Part of Driver Saved Them From Death Under the Wheels.

David Senneff and his mother, who live in the vicinity of Fair Haven, came so near to death on Monday that they will remember the experience as long as they have a remembrance of any incident in their past lives. Death literally brushed by them and the chill wind of his passing has hardly ceased to have its effect when either think of how near they were to the end of all things mundane on that day.

They were driving on their way to Polo and on approaching the railway crossing of the St. Paul there was nothing in the way of a train in sight and they went on their way not suspecting any danger. The team had crossed the track and the front wheels of the buggy were fairly on the rails when the driver saw the front of a great locomotive bearing down on them only a few rods away. There was a yell from the whistle, but the mighty mass of iron pushed by a heavy train was too close for the brakes to act and it rushed down on the carriage which seemed to be doomed to sure destruction. Fortunately the driver did not lose his presence of mind, but instantly shouted to the horses who dashed forward in time to drag the vehicle from the rails as the engine flashed past. There was a crash and the buggy tipped and swayed but did not turn over, and as the horses jumped forward the rig settled back with one wheel crushed to pieces but no further damage done. Mr. Senneff succeeded in stopping the horses before they had ran far and later secured another carriage from a neighbor and continued his journey. Neither of the occupants of the carriage suffered the slightest injury, beyond the nervous shock which in the case of the lady was quite severe.

There could not have been a more narrow escape from death as if the buggy had been one foot back of where it was when struck both of the occupants must almost surely have been killed.

WOULD SIDETRACK HIS WIFE.

Jule Walters, who has played "Sidetracked," and other "tramp" plays in Sterling appeared in Rockford the other night and just before the performance is reported to have been attacked by his wife, who accused him of paying too much attention to a young member of the company. She hit him with a grip and cut a ragged gash down his face, told him that she would play with him no longer, and left the theatre, packed her trunks and prepared to leave town, according to the story told. After much persuasion she returned to the opera house and the performance was put on. Between the acts the stage hands were edified with a continuation of the scrap which had taken place originally on the sidewalk.

DANCE AT HARMON.

Harmon, Ill., Feb. 13.—The dance given by the Modern Woodmen of Harmon was a grand success both socially and financially. The Star Mandolin club of Dixon furnished the music and the sweet strains of the music lasted until a late hour in the morning, after which all departed for their homes saying they enjoyed one of the best evenings of their life. The floor was filled all evening as quick as one strain of music died out another would strike up. There were over fifty numbers sold and the committee talks of having another in the near future.

FORGER PLEADED GUILTY.

Michael Cramer of Rock Falls pleaded guilty yesterday at Morrison to the charge of forgery and was sentenced to the Joliet penitentiary by Judge Ramsey. He left Morrison this morning at 5 o'clock in charge of the sheriff for his long visit in the state institution. The sentence will be indeterminate and may be from one to fourteen years subject to the action of the board of pardons. After Cramer's short stay in the county jail he was perfectly willing to plead guilty to the charge of forging the note which William Miller holds. No evidence was taken in the case.

DEMENT TOWN DOINGS

No grain transferred yesterday.

Phil Miller is in Chicago on business.

Tute Fuller was here yesterday on business.

Henry Davis had his wood sawed yesterday.

Dr. W. W. DuVal of East Grove is very ill.

Mrs. Fred June went to Amboy yesterday.

Ed Andrus of Onell, Neb., is here visiting with his parents.

Gus Pabst of Amboy was a Dement-town caller yesterday.

Money is at high tide in Dement town today and tonight. Both railroads paid their men today.

A special train went through on the Central shortly after noon today bearing several of the head officials of the road south on business.

He—But, of course, like anybody else, you are not fond of money for itself?

Teacher—James, how much is a pint?

Jimmy Malone—Ten cents.

Tommy—Pop, why do you men swear more than women?

Tommy's Pap—Because, my son the women don't have to pay the bills.

A healthy boy twelve years old turned up in Dement-town the other day who could neither read nor write when asked if he had never attended school, he replied that he had gone to school in Dixon three years. Either he prevaricates slightly or this is a new record for Dixon schools.

"I seem to remember that lady—who is she?"

"She was my stenographer last year."

"She's charming. Why did she leave you?"

"She was too conscientious for me. One day I proposed marriage to her and what do you think she did? She took all that I said down in shorthand and brought it, nicely type-written for me to sign."

Such unexampled insolence and total disregard of common decency was shown by photographers and the camera fiends in New York during Miss Roosevelt's visit to that city that there is earnest renewal of agitation in favor of some measure of legal protection against such persons. There is already some sort of enactment on the subject, but the talk now is for something more stringent.

Harry Wheeler, a popular First street barber, is making preparations to engage in a new business. He will still retain command of his present business, however, but it will be only as a side line. He is endeavoring to organize a stock company which, when they get ready to build a new factory, will not ask any bonus, but will spend their own money.

Only one article will be made in their factory and that article has never been constructed in this city before. As some curiosity has probably arisen by this time as to what this article is, we will explain by saying it is a gronchbag. Mr. Wheeler will be glad to meet any one who wishes to purchase stock, and will be glad to furnish any further information sought.

Former Resident Writes Of Early Days Here

Dear Mr. Editor: In your "Items gleaned from early files" of December 2nd, the one anent the tornado of June 2nd, 1860, threw a spell of reminiscence over me, for on that "rare" day in June, when nature invites one so cordially to step out and enjoy her beauty, my beloved and I took a long stroll (I only walk in my dreams now) to the locality known as Morrill-town, and arranged for a little party which occurred not many weeks later, and the "best" at the little gathering was Mr. L. G. Lathrop, minister of the gospel, who tied a fine matrimonial knot, that the wear and tear of forty-five years has not the last impaired. Only four of the thirty witnesses to that celebration are living.

What a village Dixon was those days! Still we kept in touch with the outside world, and even had superior advantages in those pioneer days, for we were able to listen to the humor of John G. Saxe, to the prolific author and lecturer on foreign travels, Bayard Taylor, John Pierpont, that zealous apostle of temperance and anti-slavery; Horace Mann one of the leading educationists of that time, and many other of less or greater ilk.

The contact with such brilliant minds was a help toward rubbing off the "wild and woolly" from the benighted westerner! In those days of my youth, with a temper not always under the best of control, if I heard invidious comparisons regarding the two sections of country, east and west, I was a loyal little zealot for my own point of compass. I remember a New England lady who had never strayed more than forty miles from the "Hub," drifted to our own dear Dixon, and having heard it was a city, asked at the hotel to look at the "directory" and was full of scorn that a city would be minus such an important adjunct, and the nose tilted still farther into the blue empyrean upon discovering that butter, eggs and dressed chicken, were sold in dry goods stores. Ah, me! What wordy quarrels we had (I did all the quarreling). Today that lady is one of my dearest friends.

It was during these years that the bridges were in the habit of sailing off with the spring freshets, and both old and young danced many happy hours away, to raise funds for a new structure. I shall remember one as long as I live. A log floating down the river, was in danger of injuring a pier, and my husband was asked to render Major Watson some assistance, but their little boat capsized, the major grasped a rope suspended from the bridge and Mr. W. who could not swim, took a seat without ceremony, astride of the over-turned boat, and what a sail he had, away below the starch factory, before he was rescued! Rather a close call for a young man to give up life! Imagine my amazement, when he was brought home, drenched and shivering with cold; what a plight for a bookkeeper in a dry goods store.

The public schools were then under the superintendency of Mr. A. M. Gow, Miss Lizzie Martin and Miss Emily Everett were numbered among his teacher, as well as myself. He was a very fine teacher, but rather unique in his discipline, and did not always stop with his pupils. I can testify to being brought to account for some sin of omission or commission, and even some of the parents did not escape! He was a help to me, for he gave me opportunity to learn patience, and he was thorough in his teaching.

There was dearth of amusements those days, for the luxury of an opera house was not even dreamed of, so when Barnum or Forepaugh, heralded with flaming posters, the glories of a coming circus the people all, both great and small, looked forward with pleasure to the royal holiday. The grand entry into town with imposing chariots, a brass band, gilt and tinsel in abundance, cages of wild animals, the latter feature making it possible for the tender conscience of over-pious parents to be seen at the circus, because it was such an education (?) to the children! An instrument, supposed to be musical, run by steam, sending forth the most deafening and torturous sounds, called the callopie, was one time a drawing card. Truly as Galileo said, "The world moves."

A recent visit to Dixon gave me much pleasure. I had to pinch myself to be assured, that I was riding on street cars in Dixon, and a trip to Sterling via the interurban was a special delight, to say nothing of the enjoyable visit with old friends at the end of the line. One "ninety years young" friend that day charmed me by her keenly alive interest on the various topics of the day. In fact, I met so many friends, who, like Mark Twain, were looking down from their "seven-terraced summit," as he spoke of his 70 years, at a recent banquet in New York, and several very much up-to-date and clever women in their eighties, that I returned from Dixon feeling like a mere "kid," in my sixties, but I must confess that a ride to Hazelwood with friends, and contrasting the last visit there thirty-five years before, when I tripped the light fantastic toe, gave me a slight pang of regret that I can no longer dance except in my heart, but the pang was short-lived. Although the governor's house was gone, the scene of many merry-makings, nature was just as lovely and attractive as ever, and the songs of the whip-poor-will are still giving me beautiful echoes of that lovely summer evening, where the sun set in special and long-lived glory, it seemed for me, who so much of the time can catch his beams only in spots, on account of intervening brick and mortar.

The view of the Potomac river at Mt. Vernon reminded me much of Hazelwood, the beautiful. "No more witching scenery" can be found, I think, than Rock River affords.

I am glad to feel that I shall at last "lie down to pleasant dreams" on the banks of that beautiful stream.

Very respectfully yours,
GEORGIANA WITT WILLIAMS.

A LITERARY TREAT IN VISIT OF HUMORISTS

Appearance of Jerome K. Jerome and Charles B. Loomis Is to Entertain. Not Lecture.

A literary treat is in store for the people of Dixon in the coming of Jerome K. Jerome and Charles B. Loomis on February 22nd.

Jerome K. Jerome is visiting America for the first time. He is anxious to see the native American on his own heath, and he will probably gather some interesting material for future use from his travels. Jerome does not lecture, he entertains. His performance differs as much from a lecture as his delightful volumes of anecdotes do from a sermon. His personality upon the platform is as distinct as his personality as a writer. He is witty and wise, without being pedantic.

Mr. Charles Battell Loomis is known by his books, and his humorous contributions to The Century, Atlantic Monthly, The Outlook, The Saturday Evening Post, The New York Sun, and other newspapers and periodicals have made his work a household remedy for mental depression and all such kindred ailments.

As an entertainer Mr. Loomis is unique. Solemn in appearance, he can tell the most whimsically funny story without so much as the quiver of an eyelid, and retains on the platform that delightful air of refinement which has made his literary work so popular with those who appreciate humor of the rarest delicacy.

CANAL MEN HAVING SOME WINTER WORK

Endeavoring to Keep Flood Out of Canal Feeder and Prevent a Bad Overflow.

George Eckert, jr., is looking after the culverts along M-19 of the Hennepin canal feeder. The rains of the last few days have caused danger of a flood along the east side of the canal feeder where the culverts had been frozen up. Mr. Eckert took a force of men with him to open the culverts and relieve the danger of flood.

This a part of the troubles of those connected with the canal construction work during the winter months. If the culverts freeze up and the water is backed over the land the government is liable for damages and annoying suits are liable to follow.

George F. Eckert, sr., has a force of men filling sacks with sand from the waste banks of the feeder near the north end along the river. A large number of these sacks will be filled and placed where they can readily be rolled down the bank to the mouth of the feeder in case the river raises to an alarming extent. The condition of the river ice at present indicates a liability of extremely high water when the ice goes out. If the water should get high enough to enter the canal feeder it is likely to do a great deal of damage along that waterway. At the mouth of the feeder the space where there is danger is quite narrow and can readily be filled to a height that can preclude all possibility of danger.

POPULAR LECTURER WAS IN DIXON TODAY

J. DeWitt Miller Dined in Dixon Today; He Will Lecture in Polo This Evening.

J. DeWitt Miller of Philadelphia, the famous preacher and lecturer, was a Dixon visitor for a few hours today. Mr. Miller was on his way to Polo, where he fills an engagement tonight at the Polo opera house. The great divine has many friends here. For three years he filled engagements at the Rock River assembly.

Mr. Miller told a Telegraph reporter, that he was glad to visit Dixon again. "Yours is one of the many western cities I love to come to. I think Dixon has so many good and intelligent people." He inquired after his friends, and hoped they all enjoyed good health and prosperity. He left Dixon for Polo at 5:15 this afternoon.

DEFENSE OF NEWSPAPERS.

Mr. Jerome's attack on the New York morning newspapers, says the Springfield Republican, has brought out some hot replies, which are all the bitterer because they supported him in the last campaign almost solidly. It was a poor return of the service, which the newspapers performed with an eye single to the good of the people of the city. Mr. Jerome must have noticed that during the recent insurance inquiry not a scrap of evidence came out that any of the "big three" companies had even been able to buy up a New York newspaper, although the companies kept their corruption funds constantly trickling through the country. That was a tribute which deserved to be generally observed. The New York newspapers, like everything conducted by human beings, are subject to various influences, but they are above the gross kind of corruption which Mr. Jerome attributed to them.

OPERA HOUSE TONIGHT.

"The Shadow Behind the Throne," company arrived from Clinton, Ia., this forenoon. The company will appear at the Dixon opera house tonight.

—Saturday we will give our readers one of Mrs. Georgiana Witt Williams' very charming letters. Her bright and sparkling words are given a touch of sadness to us who have loved her so long, and it is more sad when she refers to her great affliction, that of being unable to walk. It is so sad to see our friend so cheerfully, bravely fight the fates as she indicates by her jolly letter.

Congressman Calder of Brooklyn, now serving his first term, is successor to Mr. Baker, who refused to accept a railroad pass. In order to learn how he might best please those who sent him to congress he mailed 40,000 letters to his constituents asking for suggestions. In a week he had received 1,400 replies, most of them urging him to stand by the president as regards leading measures proposed. Many ask for information or public documents. Mr. Calder is much pleased with the result of his experiment, which convinces him that his constituents read the papers closely.

The Kafirs.

The Kafirs are great philosophers. If an ox should die the owner never grieves, but remarks: "Now I must go to work for master (all white men who treat them well are called masters), and in six months he will give me a cow. It will have a calf. If it is a bull calf in a year I'll have a pair of oxen, but should it be a heifer calf I'm all the richer, for the next year I'll have two calves instead of one."

The opinions of the misanthropical rest upon this very positive basis, they adopt the bad faith of a few as evidence of the worthlessness of all.—Bovee.

Senate and House in Brief.

Washington, Feb. 7.—The senate put in the whole day nearly in the discussion of the prerogatives of the senate in relation to the framing of treaties, apropos to the Dominican treaty and the Algeiras conference. Bacon of Georgia doing most of the speaking. An executive session was held.

The house agreed to vote on the Hepburn railway rate bill at 4:30 p. m. today. Seventeen speeches were made, all in favor of the bill. No other business of interest was transacted.

WANT CHINESE REPUBLIC.

Younger Men, Says Missionary, Work For War to Bring Change.

Rev. S. H. Little of the Episcopal mission of Hankow, China, who recently returned to the United States on the steamer Mongolia, said, according to a San Francisco special to the Chicago Record-Herald:

"The revolutionary party, agitated by young men who have been at the universities of Japan, want a republic. They are determined to drive China into a conflict with the powers or secure the overthrow of the present dynasty. They are radical in the extreme and want to accomplish in China in a few years all that Japan has accomplished in the last fifty years.

"Their motto is 'China for the Chinese.' They welcome foreign teachings, but oppose the exploitation of their country for the benefit of foreigners, including the Japanese. These agitators are well organized and are determined to accomplish their purpose. They are engineering the boycott. 'The Japanese are as much alarmed over the situation as are the Americans. During the recent outbreaks Japanese left the country in hordes, fearing for their lives. The uprising was narrowly prevented from becoming general. The next time it may be so. In any event the whole country is ripe for a change. Japan's success has set them thinking.'

RICHEST OF WAITERS.

Charles Miller of New York to Retire on $100,000 Saved From Tips.

Patrons of the Astor House restaurant and lunch counters in New York were recently stunned by a rumor that Charles Miller, reputed to be the richest waiter in the United States, had announced his intention of retiring to the uninterrupted enjoyment of his ample estate on the Park slope, Brooklyn, says the New York World.

Miller denied any intention of quitting, but his friends said he had told them that as soon as he had reached his thirtieth anniversary in the restaurant, next September, he would quit.

Miller is the best known waiter in lower New York. He is credited with a remarkable memory for faces. If a man once gives him an order for a sandwich he remembers ever after that man's exact preferences. He can hand out sandwiches to suit everybody.

Although worth $100,000, Miller works very contentedly for $30 a month plus tips. He has been putting in ten hours a day ever since 1876. With his tips he has bought Brooklyn flats and is sending a nephew to college.

There are two other rich waiters in the Astor House rotunda—Henry Briggs at the oyster counter and Mowen at the roast beef counter. Briggs is said to be worth $60,000. Each averages $5 a day in tips.

NOVELTY IN CARNATIONS.

Carthage (Mo.) Florist Creates Unusual Flower of Pink Variety.

Perry Finn, a Carthage (Mo.) florist, has originated a new carnation that promises to become more popular than the Lawson variety, says the St. Louis Republic. Mr. Finn discovered this new flower by accident.

The flower is three and one-fourth inches in diameter, and it is thought that it can be made to expand four inches by cultivation. It is perfect and is variegated in color, being a faint pink, striped with a dark pink. This is a sprout from the Enchantress, a pale pink, varying very little from Finn's creation.

Mr. Finn, in experimenting, planted the sprout, one year ago last month. When this particular slip came into bloom this winter its flowers at once attracted attention, and Mr. Finn found that he had made an important creation.

The plant on which the flowers grow is similar to the carnation plant, and each plant nourishes one-half dozen flowers. The other varieties of carnations have been sold by their originators at from $20,000 to $40,000, and the Carthage florist thinks this is by far the most attractive plant of its species. The new carnation will be known as the "Carthage carnation."

UNCLE JOE'S GALLUSES.

Why Speaker Cannon Decided to Preserve Them For Posterity.

The home knit galluses recently given to Speaker Cannon by W. W. Russell of South Carolina, through Representative Alken, are to be handed down to posterity unworn by the distinguished statesman for whom they were made, says the Washington correspondent of the Kansas City Times. The speaker prizes them too highly to wear them. He has written a letter to Mr. Russell acknowledging the gift, in which he says:

"In material and in name I recognize them from my familiarity with them in the early days when home-spun galluses were the order, made and knit by our mothers and in almost universal use.

"I shall put the galluses in my cabinet rather than wear them, because I desire to preserve them for my grandchildren, that they may see what we wore in my early days."

Canada to Our Defense.

We shall never trample on the United States. We shall respect their rights and protect them from foes abroad, says the Toronto News. If the republic needs help a letter to the government of Canada will bring it, and neither Emperor William nor President Castro shall be permitted to bully our neighbors or invade their interests. All these services will be performed free of charge, because we recognize that a happy and prosperous nation beside us is a necessity and that in order to secure this no oppression will be practiced with our consent.

TWAIN ON VERACITY

Claims to Know More About I
Than J. D. Rockefeller, Jr.

SAYS HE NEVER LIED IN HIS LIFE

Humorist Then Tells Real Story of the Cherry Tree and Hatchet—Expresses Surprise That a Boy Had Such a Good Chance to Lie and Didn't—How He Found Fitting Cil-
max to One of His Famous Tales.

Mark Twain was at the second annual dinner and entertainment given by the Dickens Fellowship the other night
at the New York Press club in memory
of Charles Dickens, says the New York Herald.

George Cary Eggleston, honorary
president of the fellowship, was toastmaster and introduced Mr. Clemens, who recited his troubles with the people who were forever trying to tell him he was the greatest man on earth,
or that he needed lessons in the line of upbuilding his character in the matter of veracity. These suggestions hurt
him much, he said, as he was born sensitive and he was twice as sensitive now as then. He declared he had never told a lie in his life.

"John D. Rockefeller, Jr., told his Sunday school class a few weeks ago,"
continued Mark Twain, "all about veracity, and why it was better that everybody should always keep a plentiful supply on hand, and I want to say to you that among the hundreds of letters
I receive each week many of them have suggested that I ought to attend Mr.
Rockefeller's class. I know Mr. Rockefeller very well. He is a fine fellow and competent in many ways, but as to his knowledge of veracity—well, he is only thirty-five years old, and I am seventy. I have been familiar with veracity twice as long as he has."

Mr. Clemens told how the world at large had entirely lost the point of the story little George Washington told his father about the cherry tree episode.
"The point is not necessarily in the truthfulness of the small boy in admitting using the hatchet, but in the remarkable sagacity of a seven-year-old boy under trying circumstances," said
he. "The evidence was against the boy.
The boy didn't need to tell his father
that he couldn't tell a lie, because he could have done so had he felt like it,
and he wouldn't have had to attend a Rockefeller class to teach him how.
The real pith of the story was the astonishment of George's father to find that he had a son who had a chance to tell a lie and didn't do it."

In talking of his lecture on Artemus
Ward Mark Twain told of his trouble
in finding a fitting climax to his famous story of Ward's encounter with a "railroad bore"—a species that he particularly detested—who took the seat
beside him in a car on a journey to Washington shortly after the close of the war, says W. H. Merrill in Harper's Weekly. Artemus was engaged in reading and in no mood for conversation. But the bore was not to be balked. "Say," he observed to his victim, "I've thought Grant'll get the nomination for president?" Artemus looked up from his book, according to Twain,
gazed curiously at the stranger and said:
"Grant? Grant? Who is Grant?"

"Never heard of him," solemnly answered Artemus. This confession dazed his seatmate for a few minutes, but he returned to the charge with the insinuating suggestion, "They say old Greeley is agin him." Again the serious eyes were lifted from the book. "Greeley," he asked—"old Greeley? I never heard of him either. It appears to me, sir, that you know more strangers than any man I ever met!" It took the interlocutor fully ten minutes to recover
from his surprise. Meanwhile Artemus was deep in his book. Finally the talka-tive one could endure it no longer,
and he broke out with, "Say, you darned
fool, did you ever hear of Adam?"

"Adam? Adam?" replied Artemus meditatively. "Wh-wh-what was his first name?" This closed the conversation.
"I couldn't seem to get a good enough climax," said Mark, who confessed to inventing the story, "until I thought of my old friend Adam."

Good Work of the Automobile.
The automobile has done one good thing—it has made it impossible for a stupid man to live in America, says the Schoolmaster. You must be alert nowadays if you want to live.

Hats Off to the Airship.

The automobile is no longer a wonder; it's a children's toy, says the Schoolmaster. The airship—that's the thing!
A Peep Into the Future.
I stood on the bridge at midday—
The weather was hot in July—
And, gazing aloft toward the zenith,
Beheld a balloon in the sky.
Far up in the azure it floated,
The thinnest speck in the air,
And watching it floating I wondered
Its object in being up there.
Betimes it came down, and I sought it
And asked of the aeronaut why
He had sailed through the azure so slowly.
As though he were searching the sky.
He seemed to be lost in conjecture—
So much so I had to speak twice.
"Excuse me," he said, "I was up there
To look for the price of ice."

"And what are the figures?" I queried,
Because I was needing cold stuff.
"I didn't find any," he answered.
"I couldn't go high enough."

CONFIRMED PROOF.

Residents of Dixon Cannot Doubt
What Has Been Twice Proved.

In gratitude for complete relief
from aches and pains of bad backs—
from distressing kidney ills—thousands have publicly recommended
Doan's Kidney Pills. Residents of Dixon, who so testified years ago,
now say their cures were permanent.
This testimony doubly proves the worth of Doan's Kidney Pills to Dixon kidney sufferers.

William Seward Brierley, of 322
Third street says: "In the month of December 1897, when suffering a good deal of pain in my back and other annoyances due to some disturbance of the kidneys, I went to Leake Brothers' drug store for Doan-
s Kidney Pills and took them. It cured me and I allowed my experience with and opinion of the remedy
to be published in our Dixon papers.
I just as emphatically endorse Doan's Kidney Pills today as I did years ago."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn company. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Any one suffering from kidney pains
back-ache, bladder trouble or rheum-

FOOTHOLD AND COMFORTING

The soothing and comforting effects
of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve, when applied to Piles, sores, cuts, boils, etc.,

thus circulating the blood through the diseased parts, permitting or aiding Nature to permanently remove the trouble entirely. Sold by Rowland

It is difficult to cure a cough or from yourself from the discomforts of a cold
unless you move the bowels. Bee's Laxative Honey and Tar sets on the bowels and drives all cold out of the system. For Croup, Whooping Cough, Colds, and all Lung and Bronchial affections, no remedy is equal to the original Bee's Laxative Honey and

INDIGESTION OVERCOME.

Indigestion is easily overcome by the use of Kodol dyspepsia Cure, because this remedy digests what you again. Kodol relieves indigestion,

Belching of Gas, Sour Stomach, Heart
Burn, etc., and enables the digestive organs to transform all foods into the kind of rich red blood that makes health and strength. Sold by Row-

CHILDREN POISONED.

Many children are poisoned and made nervous and weak, if not killed
outright, by mothers giving them
cough syrups containing opiates. Foley's Honey and Tar is a safe and certain remedy for coughs, croup and lung trouble, and is the only prominent cough medicine that contains no opiate or other poisons. Rowland Bros.

UNBRIDGABLE CHASM

Senators Lined Up on Each Side
in the Matter of the Hepburn Bill.

DEMAND FOR AN AMENDMENT

Rock on Which Two Factions of the Committee Split.

Senate Passes the Ship Subsidy Bill
and House Appropriates for Fortifications.

Washington, Feb. 15.—In the senate committee on interstate commerce
the line between the faction which advocates the passage of the house bill
and the faction contending for the court review feature has been drawn
so taut that all thought of compromise has been abandoned. All conferences yesterday were between senators thoroughly harmonized for one position or the other, and were for the purposes of lining up for a passage at arms. Nearly a hundred amendments to the house bill are pending before the committee, and nearly a score of these bear on the judicial review of orders made by the interstate commerce commission. If many of these amendments are contended for with stubbornness a vote on the bill itself
may be delayed for several days, despite the agreement in committee that a vote shall be taken tomorrow.

Hepburn Bill Lacks a Majority.

If outward appearance may be believed the Hepburn bill cannot be taken from the committee by a majority vote.
This is not conceded by Dol-liver and Clapp. They assert, however,
that they will not accept an amendment of any character specifically providing for judicial review of the orders of the commission, and that they will bring out a minority report if a majority of the committee cannot be secured. On the other hand Aldrich, Foraker, Elkins, Keen and Crane, the leaders of the faction demanding less radical legislation, insist that they have enough votes in the committee to amend the bill.

Conferences Are a Waste of Time.

They say, nevertheless, that they do not purpose to substitute a measure
for the house bill, nor to adopt an amendment which would delay an order for the commission from becoming effective. Under the Hepburn bill it is provided that an order of the commission shall go into effect within thirty days. They say that the thirty-day provision will have the effect of forcing injunctions, as this limited time
will not permit of a review that would determine whether the order is constitutional. Having ascertained that an amendment of that purpose, no matter
how worded, will not be accepted by supporters of the Hepburn bill it was agreed that conferences between the two factions are a waste of time.

SUBSIDY BILL IS PASSED

Five Republicans Vote with the Democrats Against the Measure.

Washington, Feb. 15.—At a few minutes after 6 p. m. the senate cast its final ballot on the subsidy shipping
bill, which was passed by a vote of 28 to 27. All the votes for the bill were by Republican senators and five Republican senators voted with the Democrats in opposition. They were Burkett, Dolliver, LaFollette, Spooner
and Warner. Many important amendments were accepted, but only in one case was a modification agreed to that was not in accordance with the wishes of the managers of the bill. The exception was on an amendment offered by Spooner eliminating the provision giving half pay to members of the naval reserve who have served less than six months.

As passed the bill establishes thirteen new contract mail lines, and increases the subvention to the oceanic line running from the Pacific coast to Australia. Of the thirteen new lines three leave Atlantic coast ports,
one running to Brazil, one to Uruguay
and Argentina, and one to South Africa; six from ports on the Gulf of Mexico, embracing one to Brazil, one to Cuba, one to Mexico and three to Central America and the isthmus of Panama; four from Pacific coast ports, embracing two to Japan, China and the Philippines direct, one to Japan,
China and the Philippines via Hawaii,
and one to Mexico, Central America
and the isthmus of Panama.

The bill also grants a subvention to the rate of $5 per gross ton per year
to cargo vessels engaged in the foreign trade of the United States, and at the rate of $5.50 per ton to vessels engaged in the Philippine trade, the Philippine coastwise law being postponed until 1909. Another feature of the bill is that creating a naval reserve force of 10,000 officers and men, who are to receive retainers after the British practice. Vessels receiving subsidies are required to carry a certain proportion of naval reserve men among their crews. The aggregate compensation for mail lines is about $3,000,- 000 annually. No steam vessel of less than 1,000 tons is to receive aid under the bill.

BRYAN AND THE PHILIPPINES

His Action After the War Referred to in the House.

Washington, Feb. 15.—The provision
in the fortifications appropriation bill
for defense works in the Philippine islands give rise to some verbal sparing in the house. Sibley of Pennsylvania asked the speaker to reflect that it was "the great Democratic leader"

whose influence had fastened the Philippines on the United States.

"That is one of those awkward questions," began Williams in reply, and the Republicans laughed. He continued by expressing his admiration and personal affection for Bryan and then said: "He made the great mistake of his life when he did not leave you people free to do what you wanted to.
But you cannot escape from your party responsibility."

Sibley then took the floor again. The answer to the question put by the late President McKinley—"Who will haul down the flag?"—he declared to be now "up to the Democratic party" as much as ever. A half dozen Democratic members were on their feet to have Sibley testify that the object of Bryan was to take the Philippines and then release them. Sibley refused to commit himself, but went on to intimate that God was with the Republican party, and then Sibley was asked if he admitted that God was not with him when he was a Democrat, and great hilarity prevailed.

Sibley succeeded in reviewing his political beliefs. He had been charged with being a Greenbacker, a Prohibi-tionist, a Populist, a Democrat and a Republican. He had really never been a Democrat, he declared, amid much Republican laughter, and certainly no
one who knew him intimately would charge him with being a Prohibition-
ist. He had voted for Grover Cleveland and also for Bryan, and this vote
was absolutely the only ground for calling him a Populist.

Senate and House in Brief.

Washington, Feb. 15.—The senate
put in the day on the ship subsidy bill, passing it by a vote of 38 to 27. Five Republicans voted with the opposition
—Burkett, Dolliver, LaFollette, Spooner
and Warner. The statehood bill
was taken up and an executive session was held.

The house passed the fortifications
bill, appropriating $4,383,993, of which $600,000 is for defenses in the Hawai-
an and Philippine islands. A joint resolution was adopted providing for the delivery to the Southern Historical society of all Confederate flags in the custody of the war office.

President Sees Negro Students.

Washington, Feb. 15.—Rev. Dr. Edward Everett Hale, the venerable chaplain of the senate, and Booker T.
Washington, principal of the Tuskegee (Ala.) Institute, presented to the president in the East Room of the White House about thirty of the students of the industrial institute located at Manassas, Va. The students sang two or three songs for the president, who afterward greeted each one of them personally.

Spooner's Schooner Knowledge.

Washington, Feb. 15.—During the debate in the senate on the subsidy bill
Perkins of California referred to Spooner as a great admiralty lawyer. Spooner said he had never tried an admiralty
case, and that prairie schooners and Milwaukee schooners were the only schooners ever seen in his section of the country.

Mrs. Aaron Blair Dead.

Washington, Feb. 15.—Mrs. Aaron
Blair, of Indianapolis, sister of the wife of General Lew Wallace, died suddenly in her room at the Cochran hotel of apoplexy. Mrs. Blair was 63 years old.
The body was taken to Indianapolis for interment.

Mikado's Gift to Miss Roosevelt.

Washington, Feb. 15.—The wedding present of the emperor of Japan to Miss Roosevelt consists of two silver vases and a valuable piece of Japanese embroidery. The embroidery consists of a piece of silk about eight feet square.

IMPORTANT TO CHICAGO

Council Is for 85-Cent Gas, Popular Vote on City Ownership and Higher Licenses.

Chicago, Feb. 15.—The city council
at a special meeting took action on three important propositions affecting the city. An ordinance fixing the price to be paid for gas by consumers at 85
cents, instead of 90 cents and $1, as heretofore, was passed over the veto of the mayor by a vote of 57 to 10; an ordinance placing the saloon license at $600 instead of $500 was agreed to—35 to 32—but the mayor ruled that 36
votes—the constitutional majority—
were needed to pass it; so that subject will come up again.

The other important action was the
ordering that the question of voting $75,000,000 for the purchase of the street railways for the city be submitted to the voters of the city at the next election. The saloon license question came before the council on a majority committee report favoring $1,000,
and a minority report favoring $600.

Consecrated a Bishop.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Feb. 15.—Rev.
Dr. John N. McCormick, rector of St.
Mark's Episcopal church, of this city,
has been consecrated coadjutor bishop of the Episcopal diocese of western Michigan, the first in the history of the diocese. In attendance there were fifty Michigan clergymen and more than 100 visiting laymen.

Was a Special Bomance.

Washington, Feb. 15.—Emphatic denial is made at the White House of the special story that one of the invitations to Miss Alice Roosevelt's wedding had been sold for $400. "The story
is perfectly ridiculous," said Assistant Secretary Barnes.

Legislative Congratulations.

Columbus, O., Feb. 15.—The house
has adopted a joint resolution congratulating Representative Nicholas Longworth and Miss Roosevelt on their approaching marriage.

SUBLETTE.

Sublette, Ill., Feb. 15.—Mrs. William R. Long died at the family home
four miles west of this village, Wednesday morning, February 14th. She was a thoroughly good woman and had resided in her late home about fifty years.

William Oberhelman went to Chicago Monday, on receiving word that his son, William Jr., had been run over by an automobile. He wrote back that his son was seriously injured, but would probably recover.

Sam Lefelman has started a new
blacksmith shop near his livery barn.
We have been without street lights
a week or more, until Tuesday evening, when they shone out again.

Mrs. Gardner has returned from her visit in Moline.

Matt Haus, sick with pneumonia,
is convalescent.

EAST PAW PAW.

East Paw Paw, Feb. 15.—Miss Mabel Anderson returned home Monday after an extended stay with her friends in Leland.

Wm. Gallagher and family spent Sunday with his brother, Dan, at Freedom.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hampton entertained the Rollo Missionary society last Saturday. A fine time was reported by all.

Friday evening, February 23rd.
The school will give an entertainment in the school hall, everyone is cordially invited to come.

Three cases of smallpox are reported near Earlville.

—Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Deeter
have gone to Elgin to reside.

—Three of the Nachusa house
waitresses have resigned their positions to accept positions in the Shirley hotel at Madison.

Arnold Daly in "You Never Can Tell"

The Dixon Opera House will have a brilliant attraction next Monday,
Feb. 19, in the engagement of Arnold
Daly's company in Bernard Shaw's
'You Never Can Tell,' his most interesting and amusing play. Mr.
Daly is undoubtedly the most brilliant literary man of the day and has occupied an unrivaled degree of public attention during the past few seasons.
He undoubtedly owes much of his success, as well as his vogue as a dramatist in this country to the fine historical ability and the untiring intellectual energy of Mr. Daly, who,
though still a very young man, already occupies a place in the very foremost rank of American actors.

Shaw's merry comedy will be presented here with the same production
as during the New York run.

—An eight and one-half pound
daughter gladdened the home of Mr.
and Mrs. T. R. Group of Woodville,
Mich., Monday.

A Warning.

J. W. Kelley notifies persons who borrowed shovels or other tools belonging to him that they must return
them to him or he will consider them stolen and act accordingly. The same applies to those who have taken
gravel from the pit and have not paid
for it. 30tf

A Misleading Statement.

An article has been in the Dixon
papers addressed,—To Oil Consumers,
and signed by the Pennsylvania Oil Co., which is misleading to the public
and an injustice to the merchants.

It states that owing to the fact that
the groceries will not handle their oil,
and the people want it so badly, they are obliged to start a retail wagon to supply the trade. The fact is, five merchants have been handling their oil in Dixon for the past six months
or more, and four handle it exclusive of any other oil. So people can get it if they want it very bad, and for them
to start a retail wagon is an unfair
deal; I have handled their oils ever since they came to Dixon—also Keystone Special (a much higher grade of Penn. Oil)—and the Standard Oil also.
And I will continue to sell all oils as low as any one else. W. M. POND.
